

Indigenous Digital Archive

The following pages are the original guides by the US National Archives to open federal records that are under consideration for phase 2 of documents to be available to be accessed freely online through the Indigenous Digital Archive, a collaborative interface at <http://native-docs.org>.

The Indigenous Digital Archive is a project of the Museum of Indian Arts and Culture (MIAC) in Santa Fe, New Mexico, in collaboration with the State Library Tribal Libraries Program and the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center, an organization of all 19 Pueblos of New Mexico.

The Indigenous Digital Archive thanks the IMLS National Leadership Grant for Libraries, the Knight Foundation, and the New Mexico Historical Records Advisory Board, and private donors for their support!

2017 April
info@native-docs.org

Facebook: IndigenousDigitalArchive